

Daniel Cajigas Bio

Daniel Cajigas is the President of Bridge Brands Sales, Inc. where he represents wines from Chile, Argentina and Italy and brokers beverage deals through various beer distributors. He also trains sales teams on the development and marketing of brands. He has celebrated over 40 years in the beverage industry.

Daniel entered the beverage industry in 1970 working for Port Distributing Corp. as a salesman. After winning numerous sales awards selling Budweiser, Heineken, Lowenbrau, and Molson beers, he was promoted to District Sales Manager and left the company in 1984 after 14 years to start his own business. From 1984 to 1989 Daniel owned and operated Wine Cellar Plus where he served as an importer of wines from Austria, France and as a distributor of California wines.

In 1990 Daniel returned to the beer industry taking a job as Regional State Manager for New York and New Jersey for Beck's Beer. He then went on to serve as District Manager for the Metro New York area as for Star Industries, a Long Island wine importer and distributor. In this position he helped build many name brands such as Don Q Rum of Puerto Rico, Brugal Rum, and Bacardi.

Daniel is President of The 50 Club, a forum for members of the liquor industry. This Club has raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for local charities. He was also a member of the Liquor and Wine Credit Association. He is a member of the Huntington Hispanic Task Force.

He has helped with fund raising for the New York City Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, is past President of the Queensboro Rotary Club and has worked on the Golf Outing for the Norhport Veterans.

Daniel was born one of seven children to Puerto Rican parents and raised in The Bronx, NY. He attended James Monroe High School, Bronx Community College, and completed management courses at NYU. He resides in Huntington, New York with his wife Anne and has one son, Daniel, and daughter-in-law Kara and granddaughter, Kylie.
